

Talking Folktales (5-8)

Talking Folktales

Children can listen and re-listen to these 4 classic stories, page by page, hear key words, and record roleplay and narration. Teachers can make recordings directly on to the book and add questions which suit the level of pupils in a class. There are 4 colourful talking charts to reinforce grammar and vocabulary.

The Musicians of Bremen

Listen to the story about 4 musical animals and find sounds, rhymes and information on every page.

There are key words at the back of the book and children can record onto each page, role playing different characters or telling their own versions of the story.

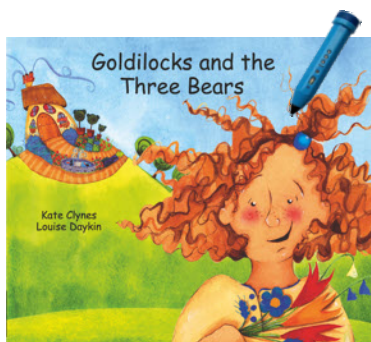

Winner of the Gold Practical Pre-School Award 2009

Colours and Numbers

Play interactive games that support the building of vocabulary relating to colours and numbers.

Children will love learning with the characters that they've met in the traditional tales.

Goldilocks and the Three Bears

Listen to this classic folktale and hear sounds and rhymes that children will want to listen to again and again.

This is a great way to build children's confidence in listening and storytelling.

Winner of the Gold Practical Pre-School Award 2009

Times and Days

Play matching games with the TalkingPEN and build confidence in vocabulary relating to times of day and days of the week.

Children will love learning with the characters that they've met in the traditional tales.

The Little Red Hen and the Grains of Wheat

Read the story of the Little Red Hen and then explore the pages of the books to hear the animals talking.

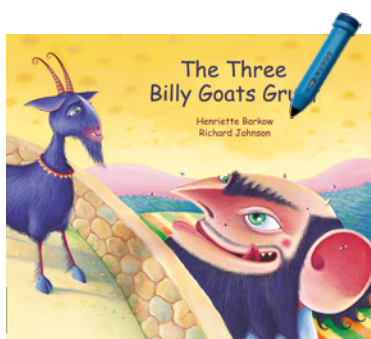

Encourage children to tell their own versions of the stories.

Winner of the Gold Practical Pre-School Award 2009

Greetings

Play games that introduce different forms of greetings. Then record your own greetings.

The Three Billy Goats Gruff

A great way to build a love of reading in children. They can practise recording this story into the TalkingPEN. They can read in different voices, play different characters and then listen back to themselves.

They can then listen to the original version of the story narrated in English.

Winner of the Gold Practical Pre-School Award 2009

The Body and Verbs

The characters from The Three Billy Goats Gruff help children to learn the words for the different parts of the body and different action words.

Winner: ERA Award 2006

Interactive Literacy CD-Rom

Pupils can use the Interactive Literacy CD-ROM to watch a video of the story and then take part in activities such as reading and listening, comprehension, synonyms, prepositions, capitalisation, word endings and rhyming words.

We can customise this CD-Rom with instructions in the languages you choose.

- LANGUAGE
- Afrikaans
- Arabic
- French
- Portuguese
- Sotho
- Xhosa
- Zulu